The Town Record By MONTE DAYTON

A. J. BODIEN, recently retired water department head and more recently secretary of the Northern San Mateo County Sanitation district, has been gently ousted from his post.

Board of directors told Bodien he could have "extra" work with the district, when occasion demanded, and assertedly gave him two days in which to give his reply to the proposal.

The board said they heard no word from Bodien long after the two days were up, so sent him a letter indicating tacitly he was no longer with the district.

The barrooms bristled with comment Thursday night after the OLPH boxing bouts.

Referees had awarded one fighter the decision, later reversed it three bouts later and called the match a draw.

Amateur sleuth quickly discovered that the state boxing commission code expressly forbids reversing a decision and also stipulates that no bout may be called a draw.

Said one irate fight fan, "I love boxing but this kind of stuff is for the birds."

Said OLPH Men's club: "We promote the fights but the commission's duly delegated officials make the decisions."

Said the bartenders: "It's good for business."

Despite the tumult and shouting, everybody was happy in the long run except the fighter who wound up drawing in a battle he had "won" 20 minutes earlier.

More post mortems: Somebody swiped the bell just before the bouts and it wasn't found until half-hour later.

The announcer missed a natural. He could have said, "Somebody bod stole thee ding dong bell."

Mean Old Man: MERRILL BAXLEY, recently hired Broadmoor cop, formerly drove the elementary school bus in that area and was a pretty popular guy with the younger set.

Just before Baxley was admitted to the Broadmoor force B'moor police commissioner HARRY BROWN came home to find his children weeping. "Daddy, you can't hire our bus driver," they pleaded.

Ever wonder why the new building in Westlake is known as "Westlake Medical Dental?" Sounds like something's chopped right off the end. You're right. County medical society deemed that to call it "Westlake Medical Dental Building" was a bit too presumptuous—

DC Mothers March Aids Polio Victim; She Can Play Again

A bright-eyed, 6-year-old Daly City girl no longer has to wear a brace. Little Margaret Weeden can walk without aid now. Her left leg is doing its job, but her right arm is still partially paralyzed. Margaret is one of the lucky ones. The March of Dimes has helped her from the beginning. She is still being treated twice a week at the Morrison Rehabilitation Center, 1680 Mission street.

Infantile paralysis strikes without regard for class, caste or cash. Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Weeden, 45 Alexander street, hadn't given much thought to polio other than a regular contribution to the March of Dimes. They surely didn't consider the possibility of one of their three children being a victim of polio. It's always something that happens to the other guy, not to you or yours.

III In 1953 One of the twins, Margaret, became ill in autumn of 1953. Everybody thought she had tonsillitis. The doctor said it was polio.

Margaret was placed in the San Mateo Community hospital. The brace went on November 4, 1953, and was worn until September, 1954. Through the worry and anxiety came the thought of the hospital bills. A shipyard electrician's pay wouldn't meet several hundred dollars in bills. "Can you afford $1,158.00?" Mrs. Marie Weeden asked.

Mrs. Weeden didn't have to answer. The March of Dimes continues to pay the bills for Margaret's treatment.

Today this child can play quietly with her two sisters, Patricia, 9, and her younger-by-an-hour twin, Marie. Soon she will have full use of her right arm with the aid she receives from the Morrison Rehabilitation Center.

Through the center, the March of Dimes foundation is taking care of 25 polio cases from Northern California at the present time. Foundation funds have brought 60 people, 35 of them professionals, to help these victims. Margaret, and others like her, need treatment after the hospital phase. Physical and occupational therapy.

Water Meters Are Lengthy Topic At Monday City Meet

Water meters commanded more than three hours of the city council's time Monday night as they heard representatives of two meter firms detail the advantages of their respective products.

Neptune Meter Co., the firm which is now supplying Daly City with the mechanisms, and Rockwell Manufacturing Co., an organization that provided meters here 25 years up until a year ago, were represented.

The Rockwell salesman told the council that he had offered the city option to buy 1000 meters more than a year ago at a price of $20 each, or $1 per meter under the standard rate. According to the salesman, the city had never purchased the meters, although his company had them made up expressly for Daly City.

He said the offer still stood if the city wished to take the meters. Water Superintendent Charles "Gus" Ford said the Rockwell meters have been giving the city trouble. He said Neptune's product had proved satisfactory.

Councilmen held over the matter for further study, indicating they might put meter purchasing out to bid in the future.

Here is where your dimes and dollars go: Into hospitals, personnel, research, rehabilitation... perhaps for your child or your neighbor's child. Their staffs are limited, the need is greater than ever.

Mrs. Weeden knows the value of a dime or dollar. She will take her usual place with the other mothers when they march February 1 to aid the victims of infantile paralysis.

CITY HOLDS CLOSED MEET WITH B. C. ROSS
For the first time since the police department investigation here last summer, the city council held a closed session Monday night. The caucus meeting lasting only a few minutes, was asked by City Clerk B. C. Ross to discuss a personnel matter. Under state law, the city council may not exclude the press and the public from official meetings unless they are discussing personnel problems.

City Awards Bid On Reservoir Roof

Daly City Reservoir No. 3 will get a new roof at a cost of $9617. Councilmen Monday night awarded contract to John Q. Adams to carry out the re-roofing project for that amount.

The Adams low bid was more than $7000 under the previous low figure submitted when bids were first called for November 22.

The council awarded contract Monday night to Western Traction Co. for supplying the city with a street flusher. Their bid, low of two submitted, was $16,580.62.

City Improvement Co. was winning bidder for the Market Street Improvement project, entering a figure of $3393.

STREET PAVING IN TWO AREAS HANGING FIRE

Ricco Lagomarsino, local builder, in a letter to the council Monday night, said he has completed negotiations for paving his half of Atlanta street.

But councilmen said his agreement to complete the project was qualified by one stipulation in the letter: That he was not obligated to pay the contractor for the work until such time as Thomas Callan completes paving of his street property on Hoffman street.

The squabble over finishing the two streets has raged for months, with Callan and Lagomarsino both refusing to carry out their respective street paving projects until the other proceeds with his street work.

Councilmen ordered City Administrator Dan Andersen to notify Lagomarsino that his letter had been received. Andersen was also directed to write Lagomarsino a second letter calling for completion of Atlanta street "immediately."

Callan was forwarded a similar letter from the city last week, calling for prompt action on the street work, but to date the city has not received an answer, Andersen said.

Lagomarsino has maintained that Callan had made an earlier commitment for completion of Hoffman street.

Wounded Local Man Fails Robbery Attempt

Although Emil Del Braccio, 62, of 537 Hillside avenue, had only $45 in his pockets last week, he wasn't going to let two gunmen steal it. Del Braccio had just finished work at a bakery on Ocean avenue when the holdup occurred.

As he entered his parked car, two men suddenly appeared on either side of him. One informed him that it was a holdup. "Oh, no it isn't!" the former amateur boxer told them—and grabbed for the gun.

The gun fired a bullet, creasing Del Braccio's left hand. The robbers ran firing wildly as the baker pursued.

The Daly City man shouted for bystanders to keep after the pair as he ran into a cigar store for help.

A candy store owner trailed the gunmen in his car. They ran to a parked car and fired one shot at him. He kept on their trail for about five blocks. When last seen they were running through the streets of the Ingleside district.

Del Braccio was treated at the Alameda emergency hospital.

CANCER DEATHS HERE DOUBLED IN FIVE YEARS

Known cancer deaths have doubled percentage-wise in Daly City over a five-year period. In 1948 8% of the 101 cancer cases in this city died from the disease. In 1953 16.7% of the 150 cases died, according to Charles Domini of the county health department.

In conjunction with the new statistics on cancer revealed recently by Edward McDowell, president, San Francisco branch of the American Cancer society, the above figures paint a gloomy picture for local residents.

McDowell pointed out that cancer now strikes one in four, instead of the one in five as had been reported in previous years.

"The new ratio means that the shadow of cancer can be expected to fall on an additional 1200 people in Daly City who might earlier have expected to escape the disease," McDowell declared, "bringing the total to 6000."

McDowell said the new figures will spur local volunteers of the American Cancer Society in their efforts to acquaint the public with the fact that cancer can be cured if it is detected and treated in time, and to place in every home a list of cancer's early warning signs—"The Seven Danger Signals of the disease."

"Fortunately," he said, "one significant statistic has not been changed. Cancer still kills at the same rate of one person in every seven. To us this means that a higher percentage of cancer's victims is being saved. There is greater degree of hope for the cancer sufferer than there ever has been before."

The new ratio of "one in four," as against "one in five," is based on studies by the statistical research section of the American Cancer society in New York, McDowell stated.

He added that it reflects increased efficiency in the reporting of cancer cases since 1949, as well as an actual increase in the incidence of cancer. The "one in four" figure was reviewed by the cancer commission of the California Medical association before being made public here.

Hilltop Lodge Hearing On Today At City Hall

Third, and probably final, board of equalization hearing on the Hilltop Lodge, 22 Hillcrest drive, will be held today (Friday) beginning at 10 a.m. at the Daly City council chambers.

Allegedly a hangout for narcotics traffic, the board of equalization seeks revocation of the Lodge's liquor license on the grounds that it is a disorderly house.

Bulk of today's hearing will be devoted to hearing testimony by Attorney John J. Fahey's witnesses for the defense.

Norbert Falvey, acting district liquor control administrator who is prosecutor, said earlier he had completed his case.

Referee for today's hearing will be Ivore Dains.

Son Cites Officer's Humanitarianism In Letter To City

The following letter was received by the city council Wednesday in connection with the death of civic leader Roscoe F. Byrnes last week. Byrnes suffered a heart attack at the Mission and San Jose intersection. This letter tells of the subsequent action taken by Officer Van Otten.

Gentlemen:
This letter is being written to inform you of the actions of one of the members of your police force, Officer Van Otten. I feel that humanitarian acts such as he performed should be brought out into the public eye so that you and the citizens of your community will know how much he is appreciated by this one family.
On January 13, 1955, in the late afternoon, my father passed away while sitting behind the wheel of his automobile at a Daly City intersection. Officer Van Otten, who was on duty at the intersection, rushed up to the car to aid my mother. PROPOSE CITY-WIDE ASSESSMENT ON JOB

A drainage assessment district, affecting nearly 1200 homeowners and costing $98,000, was given top priority Monday night by the council.

The emergency session on storm drainage followed by only a few minutes a flash flood that inundated streets and some homes in southern Daly City.

Councilmen paid a pre-meeting visit to the affected areas and were unanimous in concurring that "something has to be done immediately."

Serra Maintenance May Be Handled By SF, County, State

Maintenance of Junipero Serra boulevard, now operated by the penniless Joint Highway District 10, will not be taken over by Daly City, it was learned this week.

The highway district passed a resolution turning over maintenance of the heavily-travelled thoroughfare, but the city has refused to accept it.

Maintenance of the highway within the city limits would cost an estimated $3000 to $5000 a year, City Administrator Dan Andersen said.

The administrator said plans are now being made to have the highway financed jointly by the state, San Mateo county and the city of San Francisco. Eventually, he said, the boulevard may be taken into the state highway system.

Junipero Serra is one of two thoroughfares within the Daly City limits that are used more by motorists outside the city than local vehicles.

The city, in a resolution several months ago, asked San Mateo county to take over maintenance of Hillside boulevard, which is a direct route from South San Francisco to San Francisco, but county supervisors have not acknowledged the request.

Andersen estimated that only about 10 per cent of the travel over Hillside boulevard is by Daly City motorists.

Two years ago Daly City spent $12,000 re-surfacing Hillside boulevard. Another $10,000 has been allocated in the budget this year for paving the road.

"Free For All" At Mission Tavern Discounted By Chief

What was reported as a "free for all" Sunday night in a tavern at 6296 Mission street, operated by George Kirchhubel, turned out to be nothing more than a minor incident, according to Police Chief Roland Petroschi.

An unidentified party summoned police at 9:50 p.m. Sunday, complaining that a battle was in progress at the bar, according to police report.

Officer Richard Phillips, on arrival there, said he found only one man, Patrick Harrison, 32, of 175 Los Banos, on the premises.

SF SALESMAN ENDS LIFE IN BROADMOOR WITH BLAST OF RIFLE

A San Francisco construction equipment firm owner, despondent over financial difficulties, committed suicide 50 yards from the Broadmoor police station early Wednesday morning by placing a 30-30 rifle to his temple and pulling the trigger.

Body of the man, Thomas Dodson, 46, of 1416 Cole street, was discovered by Wesley Emmet, 390 88th street, at 10:12 a.m. Wednesday. Emmet found Dodson's body in a hay barn at the 390 88th street address. Dodson rented horse stalls from Emmet.

According to Dodson's wife, Violet, her husband left home early Wednesday morning. She said she suspected there was something Second avenue, Valley, and County streets were covered with water as deep as 10 inches in some spots. The run-off came primarily down Mission street and Hillside boulevard. Water swelled up to doorsteps in some areas and in a few cases flowed into garages and basements.

City-wide Financing

In discussing the drainage assessment district Monday, several new methods of financing, among them a city-wide assessment, were brought up.

As a result City Engineer Smith said he would contact Kirkbride and Wilson, bond and public proceedings experts, for a report on the best method of financing the project.

As of now, the drainage assessment burden would be carried by property owners in four units of the proposed district.

Levies would range from $15 to $90 for average lots and residences, with higher payments for larger parcels of property.

Property owners would be given a minimum of 10 years to pay off the obligation, with a possibility of financing the drain program over 20 years, under the Refunding Bond Act of 1935.

Boundaries

Property included in the proposed assessment district is as follows: Unit 1—Bounded on the east by Hillside boulevard, between Price street on the south and East Vista on the north;

Unit 2—East of Hillside from Price to Hoffman streets and over to the east city limits, including a portion of the Crocker Estate; Unit 3—Between Hillside boulevard and Mission street, bounded on the north by Price street and on the south by A street; Unit 4—From Westlake avenue on the north to Jefferson high school on the south, between east-west boundaries of Mission street and the Southern Pacific railroad right of way.

Average cost per homeowner will run about $35 or $40, according to Smith.

Start This Winter

Councilmen hope to start the assessment proceedings before this winter is over so that work can begin about July of this year. This would mean completion of the job before next winter's rains. It takes approximately 90 days to let contract after initial proceedings are started, Smith said. A public hearing must be held before the district can be created.

Kirkbride and Wilson are scheduled to have their report ready for the January 31 council meeting.

"Broaden Base"

Mayor Joseph Verducci said Monday he would like to "broaden the base" of the assessments so that they could be spread out over a larger area.

Councilman Sanford Vickers

Propose City-wide Assessment On Job

suggested instituting the flood control act to cope with the problem. As an alternate he proposed that the storm drain program be made a city-wide project.

Smith said that to call the flood control act into use would be "boondoggling," explaining that the city has just as much power without using the emergency measure.

It was estimated that by spreading cost of the drainage facilities over the whole city it would cost the average taxpayer about 90 cents a year over the 10-year period.

Mayor Verducci said as soon as the Kirkbride-Wilson report was received, the council would have to devote a whole session to mapping the drainage assessment proceedings.

Cheek City Drains
Smith was called upon by the council to investigate drainage throughout the entire city to determine if there are any other urgent projects which could come under a city-wide assessment.

Commenting on the flood situation in southern Daly City, Smith said, "We've got to act quickly. We've reached the point where no more salve can be put on. There are no temporary measures. The whole problem is that there's too much water coming down Hillside and Mission unimpeded. This storm drain program is the only answer."

Lois left by plane last week for the Big City, where she plans to take up permanent residence, homesickness notwithstanding.

These Irishmen: MRS. A. ORLANDI, who owns a cabbage ranch on Skyline and Ocean Shore highway said some sons of Erin have been pilfering her cabbage patch.

She reported to local police that each night last week someone has snuck onto the scene, snuck cabbages, and snuck out again.

Down in Linda Mar, on the eve of the election, some incorporation patriot dreamed up a beauty.

He stole a Daly City city limits sign from Skyline boulevard, placed it on the outskirts of the coastside town, with an annotation. "This is what can happen to us if we don't incorporate."

GUS FORD, local water dept. superintendent, entertained four city councilmen for dinner last week at his home.

Some observers saw implications of a city employee salary increase in the making, because Ford just recently completed a term as president of the DC workers.

Councilmen said "Nix," however, just a social visit.

Also on hand for the dinner gathering were JOHN DRYE, defeated council candidate, '54 vintage, and PAUL SELMI, city treasurer.

Some say this pair may hook up as a team in the '56 city race. Their opponents: Incumbents VERDUCCI & DENNIS, another election twosome.

The Daly City parking authority never knew a three-cent stamp and a few type-written words could create such a furor.

The authority sent out letters to property owners asking them questions, such as how much they wanted for their land, when would it be available and other queries of a purely statistical nature. The authority had no intention of buying the land and couldn't if they wanted to—the money isn't there.

Misunderstanding the purpose of the authority's letters, many land-owners blew their respective gaskets, summoning the mayor and councilmen to demand to know what in 'ell was going on.

Some went so far as to retain lawyers to handle their cases, fearing the authority was going to condemn the property for off-street parking.

One hundred phone calls and several thousand words later the authority believed it had restored peace to the minds of the Daly City landlords.

According to Phillips, another party involved in the alleged ruckus had left the place. No arrests were made.

Reading about the incident in a county newspaper, Thomas Gosland, board of equalization liquor control administrator, contacted Petroschi immediately. The chief said, however, that there was nothing to the incident.

Gosland was interested in the case because Kirchhubel is currently facing board of equalization charges of narcotics activity at the Hilltop Lodge, 22 Hillcrest drive, of which Kirchhubel is co-owner.

Hearing on the Hilltop Lodge is scheduled for today (Friday) at city council chambers.

Ask Salary Survey For DC Employees

By a unanimous vote, city councilmen Monday night passed a resolution ordering City Administrator Dan Alderson to contact state personnel service board chief Kenneth Byers relative to holding a salary survey here.

The motion was made by Councilman Edward Dennis.

He said that the survey should be held to determine if Daly City employees salaries are in line with other north San Mateo county cities.

The survey would cost an estimated $300.

Incorporation For Broadmoor Is Proposed

scheduled to speak before the Sterling Park Homeowners' association on February 11 at 8 p.m.

Essence of Noonan's comments was that tax money now going to the county for financing special assessment districts would accrue directly to the "city" of Broadmoor. It was estimated during the meeting that these monies, plus state and court disbursements, would be sufficient to finance operation of a city and that no extra tax levy would be needed.

3 Special Districts
At present Broadmoor area residents pay taxes on three special districts: Broadmoor Police, 50 cents per $100 assessed valuation; Colma Fire, 23 cents per $100; and Colma Lighting, 8 cents per $100.

These three districts, financed with a total tax rate of 81 cents per $100 valuation, would be the only ones which could be eliminated by formation of a city. Other special assessment districts, such as North San Mateo County Sanitation, San Mateo County Harbor, Elementary and High schools would still remain intact.

The 81 cents per $100 valuation would revert to Broadmoor were it to become a city. Presently the county collects this money and has jurisdiction over its expenditure.

Only other revenue which Broadmoor would realize through incorporation would be through state "in lieu" taxes and fine monies from municipal court.

$8000 A Year
Money for fines collected from Broadmoor arrests would bring in approximately $8000 a year to the city, THE RECORD learned.

State subventions would total about $50,000 annually which would total about $50,000 annually which would go to Broadmoor, based on an estimated population of 8000.

The 81 cents per $100 assessed valuation which would be realized from abandonment of the three local districts would net the community approximately $60,000 a year, based on $24 taxes on 2500 homes assessed at approximately $3000 each.

Thus as a city Broadmoor would have net revenue of approximately $118,000 a year.

Although these figures are incomplete, they have been cited as comparing unfavorably with the financial structure of Daly City.

Daly City, a community of 24,000, or only three times the size of the area proposed for incorporation, operates on an annual budget of nearly $1,000,000, or nearly ten times the revenue which Broadmoor could realize yearly.

Representatives of various areas present Monday included: Broadmoor Property Owners association, Vincent Cauchi; Sterling Park, Noonan; Colma Fire district, Til Conserva; and Tom Brown, Garden Village.

The incorporation group plans its next meeting for January 31, 8 p.m., at the Colma firehouse.

PARKING GROUP WILL MAP PLANS NEXT THURSDAY

The parking authority will hold its regular meeting in the council's chamber next Thursday night and at that time will review its plans and recommendation for relieving the parking problems in two of the most congested areas, together with future suggestions for other areas.

After this meeting, the Parking Authority will begin to prepare its reports for the Daly City council showing the causes for off-street parking and also to establish the fact that parking problems exist in Daly City.

Since the parking authority has been recently established, it has been serving the city council in an advisory capacity. However, when this report is completed and accepted by the council and an ordinance passed giving the parking authority recognition of its capacity, the authority will have the power to carry out its plans.

Ray Charette, chairman of the authority, said, "The State Legislature realizes the parking problems in growing communities and is very anxious to aid in relieving them. It has passed many laws to help solve these problems where possible, also older residential and business areas where provisions were not made for this influx of automobiles. Consequently it is preparing to aid such municipalities who wish the help in relieving and rehabilitation of these particular areas; whereas the entire City would eventually benefit."

"Reasonable Cost"
"In considering its plans for off-street parking for the City of Daly City, the parking authority has been very conscious of the fact that in order that its program be effective in relieving the parking situation such plans proposed must not only make parking available but must also carefully consider the question of 'reasonable cost.' This means that there must be no undue burden placed on the general taxpayers, and secondly that the parking fee be low enough that the new facilities will be attractive to the users. Only in the largest cities are parking rates sometimes high enough to pay all the costs of acquisition and preparation of parking areas plus the cost of operation and maintenance. Where the indicated subsidy comes from and in what way it is paid determines the method for financing required. It is assumed that any parking area will be made self supporting after it is established. The three general procedures normally followed in the methods of raising funds to acquire and prepare the sites for offstreet parking are as follows:

"The first possibility is to place this burden partially or wholly on the general taxpayers, on the premise that the entire city benefits through the increase value of affected properties, and through added safety to drivers and pedestrians. This can be done through a bond issue specifically for this purpose or by using the limited funds which can be made available on the City's yearly budget.

Parking Meter Revenue
"The second method is to allocate the revenue from the City's parking meters to the proposed income of the parking areas. This would probably make it possible to sell revenue bonds from which these bonds could then be retired from the parking income. Motorists would therefore pay the majority of the cost and merchants could aid by subsidizing their customers parking on limited time.

"The third general financing method is by the formation of an assessment district whereas the costs are borne by the property owners of the property so affected. This method is most desirable where there is highly concentrated businesses or where the property owners are the operators of businesses.

Majority OK
"For this method, the law requires the approval of the majority of the affected property owners before such an assessment district can be formed. Additional income can also be realized if the bus terminal facilities and other relative concessions be associated for rental in conjunction with these parking areas.

"It is the opinion of the parking authority that the ideal methods of financing would be a combination of the above methods, also it is not inconceivable that possibly some cost may be borne by the general fund inasmuch as the whole community will benefit from these plans, including taxpayers, automobile drivers, merchants, residents, business property owners, and residential property owners."

costs are borne by the property owners of the property so affected. This method is most desirable where there is highly concentrated businesses or where the property owners are the operators of businesses.

Majority OK
"For this method, the law requires the approval of the majority of the affected property owners before such an assessment district can be formed. Additional income can also be realized if the bus terminal facilities and other relative concessions be associated for rental in conjunction with these parking areas.

"It is the opinion of the parking authority that the ideal methods of financing would be a combination of the above methods, also it is not inconceivable that possibly some cost may be borne by the general fund inasmuch as the whole community will benefit from these plans, including taxpayers, automobile drivers, merchants, residents, business property owners, and residential property owners."

Local Mayor Guest At Merced Scout District Gathering

A highly successful district committee meeting was held at City College last week by Lake Merced Boy Scouts, of which Daly City and Colma are parts. District Chairman Dr. F. Grant Marsh presided at the dinner meeting which was attended by 37 men. Special guest of honor was Daly City's Mayor, Joe Verducci, who complimented the Scout organization on its leadership and growth, particularly in the Daly City area where membership has doubled in the past 12 months. Mayor Verducci told representatives of the organization which sponsor Cubbing and Scouting that his experience as an educator caused him to rate Boy Scout work very high and to regard it as an important asset in community organization. He pledged his personal cooperation and that of Daly City's official family. Mayor Verducci was the guest of Robert E. Hunter, 437 Santa Barbara avenue, who is a vice chairman for Daly City.

Court of Honor
Dr. J. E. Rathbun, 468 Hazelwood avenue, who is the district's advancement committee chairman, reported that a public Court of honor would be held Friday at Aptos Junior High auditorium, at which time Star, Life and one Eagle badge would be presented. Dr. Rathbun also showed the new bugle which will be used as an attendance award for courts of honor and other district functions. The bugle will be presented to one of the Troops in Lake Merced district at the court, to be re-presented at subsequent meetings, until it has been used three times by one troop, who then become the permanent owners of the trophy.

District Organization and Extension Chairman Ernest McAvoy, 40 Chaves avenue, reported on his committee's progress in organizing new units and conducting charter reviews and charter presentations. McAvoy said that Lake Merced district ended 1954 with 1566 boys active in 44 different packs, troops and explorer posts. He said his committee hopes to organize another 10 Units throughout the district before summer. McAvoy also introduced Casimir J. Norton, 44 Parkwood drive, who is vice president of the Westlake Property Owners association. Norton presented Jay F. Erick, new institutional representative from the property owners group, to the district committee, and Mr. Erick was welcomed as the new delegate.

Dr. Jerome C. Strain, 35 Lopez avenue, who is chairman of the district's leadership training committee, announced that a basic training course for Cub leaders would be held at the Stonestown Emporium, starting today (Wednesday), and continuing for six weeks on Wednesday nights. Dr. Strain said that Ray R. Griggs, 120 Lynwood drive, would head the faculty for the course, assisted by other men and women from Daly City and San Francisco.

Camping Committee
C. Russell Hanley, 195 Urbano drive, district vice chairman, reported on plans of the camping committee to hold the annual spring camporee at Camp Royanec, June 5-6, and to conduct an annual work party at the Boy Scout camp during May. Hanley said that honor camping awards would be made to 12 different troops and posts of the district at the January 21 court of honor. Included among the Troops to receive this award is Daly City's Troop 63, sponsored by the V.F.W., Bill Bradshaw, 141 East Vista avenue, Scoutmaster.

The district's activities committee chairman, Albert M. Rosenberg, 125 Windsor drive, reported on plans of his committee for the Scout rally, to be held February 11, and for other Scout Week plans, including window decorating, blue and gold dinners for Cub packs, and observance of Scout Sunday in the churches. Rosenberg also asked that packs and troops start their plans for the annual Scout-O-Rama at the Cow Palace in April.

Deputy District Commissioner Dick Laine, 7 Riverton drive, said plans are underway for enlarging the commission staff to a group of 20 men, so adequate service could be given to Scout Units in the District.

H. C. Mugar, deputy Scout executive of the San Francisco Council, spoke briefly, complimenting the district's leaders on their outstanding achievements during 1954. Mugar said the San Francisco Council had risen from twelfth to first place in the national index of accomplishments among the big cities of the United States, and part of the credit for this outstanding record is due Lake Merced district.

Dr. Marsh announced that the February meeting would also be held at the faculty dining room, City College, on February 14, and urged all members to plan on attending.

Village Notes

By Gwin Mitchell

Young Chuck Spenderman of Bryant street had a very special 9th birthday celebration—a dinner party, followed by a trip to the planetarium. Roger Edler, Gary Heickel, Dick South, Dick Courtney, Lyn Arneson and sister Barbara Jean went along, and all of them had a wonderful time.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Craig of 87th street just got back from a camping trip south through lower California and on into Mexico. They took a truck part of the way, and then switched to a plane where there weren't any roads to travel on. Sounds like a very interesting sort of trip to take.

A different kind of traveler was Jack Crofton over on Midway, who spent two weeks in Chicago at the Furniture Market. Wouldn't that be a wonderful trip for any housewife? Think of all the decorating ideas one could get!

The stork report came in from all over this week—Mr. and Mrs. Steve Walter, formerly of Broadmoor and now living in Sunshine Gardens, had a baby boy January 6. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Malcewicz of Garden Lane became proud grandparents when Jon Robert Lo-berg came along to live in Palo Alto on January 10th (all 8 lbs. of him arrived at 4 in the morning!). Broadmoor's Larchmont drive did very well, with two arrivals: Scott Sean McHugh, a January 3 playmate for brother Rod, and a 10 lbs., 6½ oz. ounce of pride to his parents, the Stanley McHughs—and 8 lbs., 7 oz. Myra Jean Wright, who became No. 4 in the C. Doyle Wright family on January 5. Sister Mary Elizabeth and brothers Jimmy and Tommy are happy about the whole thing.

Special Delivery Singing Telegram herewith to Vaida Hoffman, who celebrated a birthday (won't say which one!) recently. Vaida keeps busy on Thornhill taking care of husband Max, her two children, and a boxer dog; she is at present very busy with parent education courses for the James L. Snell PTA.

There are probably those who secretly envy the family of Capt. George Harding their trip to Hawaii, while at the same time being sorry to lose them from Wildwood. The Army has transferred them, which is one way of getting there!

Members of the Village Play school and their children can find special interest in a new program on KQED for children, called "Hop, Skip and Dance" . . . their dance instructor, Dick Ford, is featured.

Don't mention cats to Maryann Read! Seems that a mild-looking, malleable cat came visiting and outstayed its welcome. When Maryann tried to send it on its way, it became quite annoyed and turned on her. This happened on Beechwood, so mothers with small children might keep a weather eye out for this feline.

Saw the Ken Gillespies last week at a very nice cocktail party celebrating the 25th wedding anniversary of mutual friends in Hillsdale. Ken is quite a raconteur!

It Commander Arthur Bullen took a flying business trip to Tacoma, Washington not too long ago. While he was gone, wife Betty painted the living room of their Village Lane home, in addition to keeping the three small members of the Bullen tribe happy, clothed and fed. . . . Quite a gal!

Dr. and Mrs. Earl Herald have left Village Lane and moved to Westlake. We are sorry to lose them, but they haven't gone far enough to lose touch with all their Hostesses for the day were Mrs. Cloke and Mrs. Vozzo.

CONGRATULATIONS are offered to Westlake Improvement association by Rex Mugar (center), deputy Scout Executive of San Francisco Council, on appointment of J. F. Erick as institutional representative to the friends here. . . . We would like to welcome Mr. and Mrs. Pappas, who have bought their home from the Herald and have become Garden Villagers.

A car of noble proportions, gallant and gay, and born to rule the road in flashing style!

In every age, there are those who are not content with the humdrum, the commonplace.

If you are one of these, the Royal Lancer speaks directly to your heart.

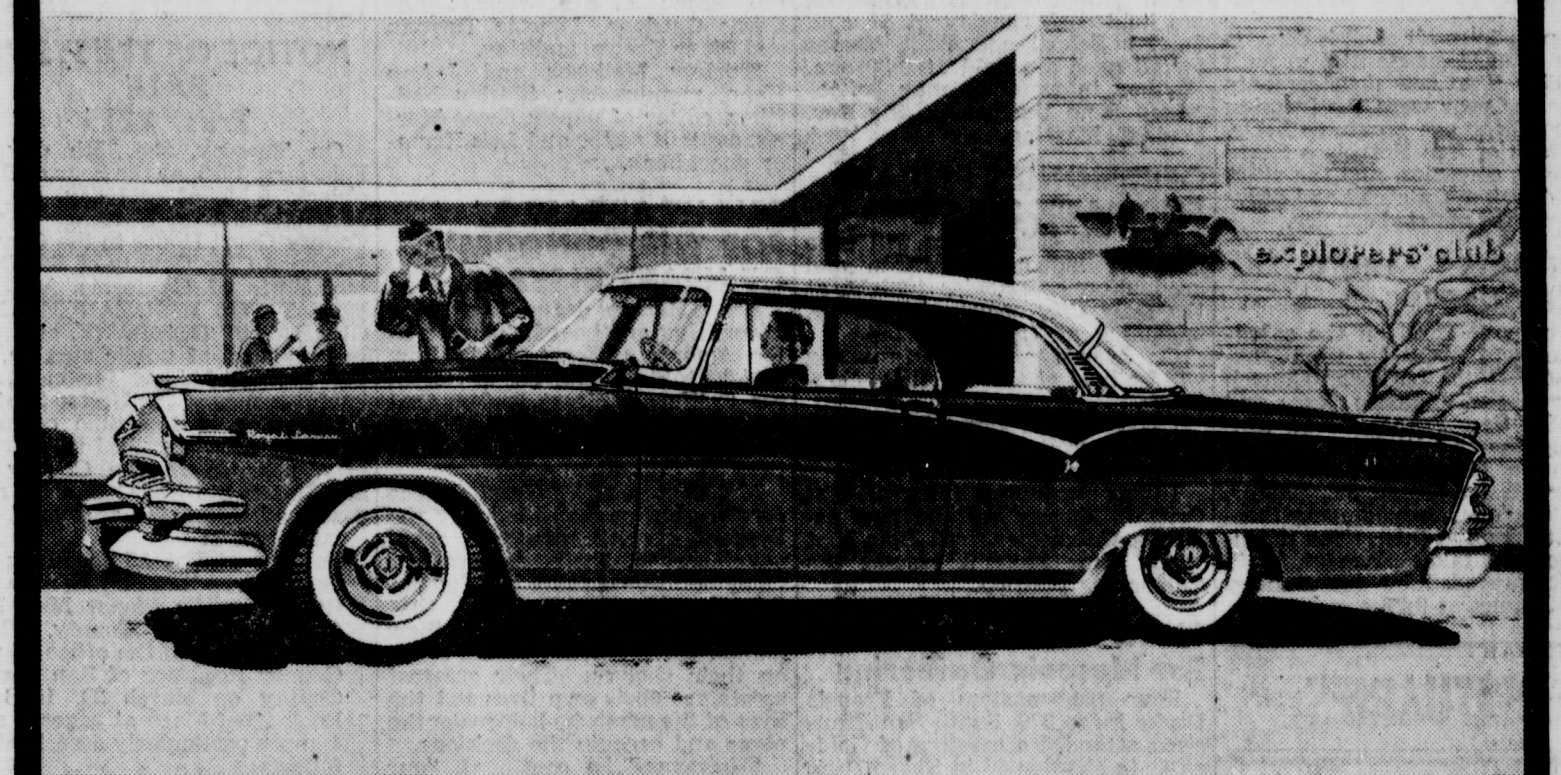

For here is a car that fairly breathes adventure. You sense it in the bold forward thrust of its hood, the sweep of rear deck, the rakish slant of the New Horizon windshield.

Its beauty is not calm and placid, but eager and alive—the measure of performance that stems from the most advanced aircraft-type V-8 engine on the road.

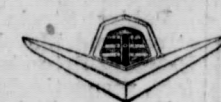

And should you choose to make this car yours, you will have this assurance: In any company of automobiles, there is nothing to challenge the distinction of your Royal Lancer by Dodge.

Love one another. (John 15:12.)
Read I John 2:7-10.
It happened back in that pleasant place we call yesterday on a beautiful wintry morning in Miss Emma's little school. There were eight little girls and six little boys. We were standing there that cold morning beside the old box heater, warming our hands. I have forgotten now what Mildred and Margaret said to each other, and I have forgotten who said it first. Anyway, one little girl took her ruler and threw it at the other, and the other one turned around and kicked her.
About that time Miss Emma arrived on the scene. She taught reading and writing and arithmetic. She also taught us about living in harmony with one another, as Jesus would have us do. Miss

Emma made Mildred and Margaret go to the blackboard and write on it one hundred times, "Love one another."
Today, almost fifty years later, the two grown-up little girls are still the best of friends and they love each other.
PRAYER
Dear God, we thank Thee for the lessons of life learned in days gone by. Help us this day to show forth Thy love to others. Bless us with Thy peace. Help us to believe in Thee and to live in the spirit of Christ who would have us love. "Our Father, who art in heaven. Amen."
THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
To love one another is to live the Golden Rule.
Margaret Moore Jacobs (Arkansas)

Election of Elders Held at Broadmoor Congregation Meet

Election of elders was one of the many points of business voted upon by those present at the annual congregational meeting of the Broadmoor Presbyterian church held recently. Following a pot-luck dinner supervised by the Women's association, the following business came before the floor and was voted upon:
Dr. Mayo Bryce, James Fairbanks and H. Z. Weibel were elected elders of the church, to serve for three years.
Those present voted to thank THE RECORD for its services in bringing church news to the attention of the public, and the Broadmoor police department for their help in directing traffic at church hours and at special occasions.
An electric organ will be purchased; funds for this purpose were started by contributions from the Women's association and the sanctuary choir.
The session was authorized to proceed with obtaining plans and costs for a sanctuary building and for larger dining and kitchen facilities, a ladies' parlor and a church office.
George W. Irvine was elected treasurer for the coming year. He will have two assistants to help him.
Reports from all church departments showed substantial growth for 1954. Two new developments during the year were the forming of the college age group, with Dr. Dan Peck of San Francisco State College as counselor, and the start of the Mariners, a social and service group for married couples.

Sharp Park Chosen For Masonic Gathering

Four past-masters of Francis Drake lodge 376, South San Francisco, attended a meeting of Golden Gate chapter 62 in Sharp Park last week. Golden Gate chapter is a Masonic club within the electrical workers craft, composed of members of various Masonic lodges in San Francisco and San Mateo counties.
Master craftsman Maurice Lanning has issued a call for members to attend services at Little Brown Church in Sharp Park. It happened that there were four past masters from the one lodge in attendance and Francis Drake lodge also was well represented by its membership.
The Rev. Herschel Harkins, pastor of the church, is a member of that lodge as is Michael Hughes of Edgemar, who made the arrangements for the chapter to meet in Sharp Park. Mrs. Hughes and other officers' wives assisted in serving refreshments after the meeting.

NEW OFFICERS ARE INSTALLED BY JOBS DAUGHTERS

Carol Ann Terrell, senior custodian; Gail Dahlgren, junior custodian; Norman Robertson, flag bearer; and Mrs. Dorothea Heuring, musician.
A well balanced program develops attitudes that make a good reader—a consistent demand for meaning; a thoughtful, inquiring mind toward everything read; interest in reading as a source of pleasure, and a means of acquiring information.
A good program must develop fundamental language understandings, and teach basic interpretative skills. It should acquaint the child with his literary heritage, mold his tastes, and promote love of good literature. The program must stimulate interest and curiosity in fine literature, which in turn leads to wide personal reading on his own for every child.
Miss Flynn pointed out that we seem to have emerged from a period of reading methods, into one of reading programs. Reading programs today are built upon a continuous, sequential program throughout elementary grades; this program, in harmony with the needs of young people, promotes essential attitudes, habits, and skills.
On Tuesday, a reading group from Mr. La Cava's 6th grade demonstrated these reading techniques, under Miss Flynn's guidance. After the demonstration, questions were asked concerning the four steps in the lesson plan for helping children grow in, and through reading.

BRIGHT PROSPECT FOR THE CONQUEST OF HEART DISEASE

Bruce Barton, dean of American advertising and board chairman of the American Heart Association, tonight told an audience of Northridge California Heart leaders that prospects for the conquest of heart disease had "never been brighter" than at present.
Mr. Barton said, "Heart disease deprives business and industry the lives of trained men who could have served their corporations many additional years but that today, business men realize that their greatest assets are not their plants, their patents or the stock on their shelves. Their greatest assets are their own lives and the lives of the men who help make the plans and execute the decisions."
"However," he continued, "our research projects are showing great promise in many directions in the efforts to find the causes of the three main killers; hardening of the arteries, high blood pressure and rheumatic fever. The public is recognizing the value of this research, and giving it increased support."

Teachers Hear Latest In Reading Techniques

Fifty Jefferson Elementary School district teachers and principals were presented the latest techniques in developmental reading at a Reading Workshop, under the direction of curriculum coordinator Louine Bostwick on Monday and Tuesday, at the Colma school.
Miss Kathryn Flynn, reading consultant of the Scott-Foresman Book company, presented the intermediate developmental program on Monday, followed by question and discussion.
The Jefferson Elementary School district, uses the Scott-Foresman reading books as basic texts in their reading curriculum. Miss Flynn discussed the functions of a basic reading program.
A well balanced program develops attitudes that make a good reader—a consistent demand for meaning; a thoughtful, inquiring mind toward everything read; interest in reading as a source of pleasure, and a means of acquiring information.
A good program must develop fundamental language understandings, and teach basic interpretative skills. WESTLAKE WINS ONE SHARP PARK MENACES COLMA IN CAGE PLAY

Westlake Globetrotters, rolling in high gear behind Steve Oppermann's 18-points, smothered OLPH Saturday, for their first victory in the Daily City Recreation Basketball league "A" Division.

The two win-hungry teams battled to a 4-4 first quarter deadlock. The Westlakers moved out in front at half-time close, 13-8.

The Globetrotters unleashed the surprise offensive powers they had held in abeyance all season in the third quarter when they rung through 18 points, holding the opposition scoreless. Oppermann hit nine for the quarter, followed by Ross Holmgren's seven tallies. Alert ball hawking by the "Trotters" was also displayed in the big quarter.

For OLPH it was Joe Millett with eight and Ron Barsotti, six, attempting to keep their club in the game.

Hit 8 for 10

Runner-up to Oppermann for scoring honors was Holmgren with 11. Back-board play of Westlake's Ernie Howren and Bill Kett was lauded.

The Westlakers hit an outstanding 8 for 10 from the free throw line. Oppermann got four points in four charity toss attempts.

The win was the first for Westlake and placed them in a tie for third in Class "A" division standings. The caliber of the trotters play Saturday at the community center established them as a dark-horse favorite for the second half of round robin play.

In other "A" league play, Sharp Park continued to menace Colma Rebels claim to league superiority by thoroughly trouncing Brisbane, 48-21.

John Twitty was the main cog for the coastersiders, nailing 11 points on seven field goals. Dave Simmons added 10 to the Sharp Park cause, followed by Keith Garrup and Hager with six points apiece.

The game was never in doubt as the coastside quintet compiled a 24-8 half-time advantage.

Galtens Hits 15

Had it not been for John Galtens superb rebounding and hook shooting to account for 15 of Brisbane's points the score would have been more lop-sided.

Sharp Park displayed a fast-paced offensive, sharp ball handling and team play to maintain their unbeaten mark and hold joint tenancy on first place with Colma Rebels. Each have 3-0 marks.

The Sharp Park five and Colma met this Saturday, 10-30 a.m. in what will settle the league leadership and could well prove the deciding contest in the championship race.

In "B" division play Sharp Park's club took a firmer hold on first place by turning back Broadmoor Royals, 21-15.

Henry Caldwell, proving the difference between the two clubs, collected 13 points for Sharp Park to lead scoring. Moreland and Martinez tanked four apiece for the coastersiders.

Bill Dougherty potted nine for the losers, followed by Bill Christman with five.

Coastersiders On Top

Competition in the Broadmoor Youth basketball league is going to be keen.

Thursday night's opening action at the Jefferson High gym bore out this observation as both games proved to be dogfights down to the final buzzer.

In the opening encounter the Hawks tripped up the Demons, 29-26, behind Center Jim Heick's 14-point output. Half-time score favored the Hawks, 17-15, and the contest was just about that close throughout the remainder of the game.

Gene Borgegardy, forward, notched eight for the winners to rank second high for his team, while Guard Bill Dougherty rolled up 11 points for the losers, followed by Guard Don Harris' nine markers.

Others scoring for the Hawks were: George Miller, 4; Bill Hix, 1; and Terry Christman, 2.

Other Demons tallying: Terry Tracy, 4; Dave Clark, 2.

In the evening's wind-up tilt the Wildcats outscored the Bobcats 19-15, after building up an 8-2 half-time advantage.

Scoring was well distributed among the Wildcats, with Forward Web Parker and Center Dixie Howell sharing high points honors with six apiece. Forward Wayne Moon of the Bobcat aggregation also tied for individual scoring honors with a half dozen tallies.

Others scoring: Wildcats—J. B. Berry, 2; John Souza, 2; Ron Mattson, 2; and Nick Coppola, 1. Bobcats—Mike Kearney, 2; Ron Berry, 2; Nate Howard, 1; Dave Dugan, 4.

100 TRACKMEN SHOW AT JEFF FOR WORKOUTS

Braving mud and rain, more than 100 trackmen have turned out for Coach Ernie Ribera's 1955 track and field team at Jefferson high.

The cinderman, led by 1954 NCS 1320 champ and record holder Jim Rector, will see first action February 25 at Saint Ignatius.

The local thincalcs will have a busy year, competing in 17 meets, finishing with the state finals May 28 in Los Angeles.

After several years of playing second fiddle in the field events, Jefferson appears on the way to a good year in that department, Ribera said. Potential point-getters in the weight and jumping competition include Mike Cloonan, George Seger, Bill Curtis and Del Hamann.

Despite the bad weather, Ribera's charges have been working out daily on the grass. Ribera's aided in his tutoring chores by George Simon and Jack Williamson.

Library News

We are proudly boasting about the "new look" for the year at the Daily City Library. Attractive coral-colored shelving was recently installed, and the interior room arrangement has been changed to provide for a more functional unit. The shelving consists of new units for the adult book collection as well as an entirely new magazine section. If you haven't visited the library since the "change," do so soon, and we are sure that you will find it quite an improvement.

The new shelving is gradually being filled with the many new books which are regularly being ordered and received at the library. We personally recommend the following recent titles:

Fiction

Davenport—M. Brother's Keeper. This novel is based on the story of the Collier Brothers. In this case the brothers are called Holt, and their home is located in the Chelsea district of New York. Their tyrannical old grandmother starts off the train of events which find the two brothers living alone in their rat-infested warren. It is a well written novel which achieves both pathos and sorrow, realities of feeling in the midst of fantasies of behavior.

Bass—The View From Pompey's Head. A successful young New York lawyer is sent back to his southern home town on a delicate mission involving an editor's withdrawal of large amounts of money from a famous writer's royalties. In probing for an answer to the mystery, Anson Page also finds the answer to some of his own uncertainties.

Patton—Good Morning, Miss Dove. Some reviewers have called this novel about an American schoolteacher a minor classic, somewhat reminiscent of "Good Bye Mr. Chip," and this writer agrees. The author deftly describes the teacher-student relationship which is so fundamental in our democracy. Mrs. Patton makes the reader see education for the dedicated task that it is. She lets it touch the strands of loyalty and tradition which we all felt and sometimes resisted.

Non Fiction

Neuberger—Adventure In Politics. A partially autobiographical account of the experiences of the author and his wife, Maurine, both Democratic members of the traditionally Republican Oregon state legislature. Since this book was written Mr. Neuberger has won the U. S. senatorial election, making him the first Democratic senator from Oregon in forty years. This is a well-written and informative book which contains much useful information on entering politics as well as on the workings of the state legislature.

Rice—The Tumult and the Shouting. Anyone interested in sports will enjoy reading the Grantland Rice book. The nationally known Tennessee-born sports writer has been described as a man who did as much for American football as any other man who ever lived, and the man who practically invented the Army-Notre Dame game and made it a part of literature with his "Four Horsemen" story of 1924. Some of the great sports figures which are included in this book are: Walter Hagen, Bobby Jones, Babe Ruth, Gene Tunney, Big Bill Tilden, Hitchcock & Milburn, the two horsemen, Knute Rockne and the Four Horsemen, Jim Thorpe, Ben Hogan, Joe Louis, Babe Zaharias and many others.

POLICE HUNT TAVERN GUNMAN

San Francisco police teletyped local officers Saturday to be on the lookout for a tavern robber known to frequent bars near the county line. The suspect is Walter Smith, a gunman who escaped with $300 in a recent San Francisco tavern holdup. He is said to be armed and dangerous.

Doss — The Family, Nobody Wanted. This is Mrs. Doss's own story of the "one family United Nations" and how it grew. A dozen years ago Carl Doss, a Methodist minister, and his wife, Helen, adopted a baby boy and loved him so much they couldn't stop with a "lonely only." Now they have a dozen children—almost adopted, although considered "undoubtedly" because of mixed racial parentage. Miss Doss tells how each of their children came to them, and how they all fitted into one happy family. The Dosses have been called radical for their solution to the problem of helping "the ones needing love to find people who have it." The Family Nobody Wanted is an inspiring testament to the power of love and to the fundamental principles of our American heritage.

Center Offers Art, Music Night Classes

Two classes designed to increase one's understanding of art and music are offered by the College of San Mateo adult center.

Art of Our Times, a lecture series discussing the various art expressions of our times, will provide background for understanding and appreciating contemporary work in fine, applied and commercial art.

Photography, motion pictures, painting, ceramics, industrial design, architecture and interior decoration will be considered as art expressions of our times. The class is open to anyone interested in understanding traditional and contemporary art movements and their influence on American culture. Taught by Gilbert C. W. Steed, the class will meet on Monday nights from 7-10 p.m. in Room 21 on the Baldwin campus.

Meeting also on Monday nights from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in the music building at Coyote Point, Mr. Howard Kay presents his class in Music for the Layman. Through the use of motion pictures and discussion, Mr. Kay will present a background for increasing enjoyment of music. By learning sections of the orchestra and their typical tonal qualities, and something of the technique and structure of music one becomes more aware of what he hears and the kinds of experiences available through an intelligent hearing of music.

In addition to Music for the Layman, Mr. Kay directs a choral group on Tuesday nights and an orchestral group on Wednesday nights. A wide variety of classes is available in the Arts and Crafts program of the center.

Registration will continue in these classes. A fee of $1.00 is charged for each class entered during the quarter. Further information concerning classes may be obtained from the center office, 124 Baldwin avenue, San Mateo 2, or by calling the adult center at DI. 2-1421.

Complete schedules of classes are available at the center or at the San Mateo or Burlingame libraries. These classes are open to anyone over eighteen years of age. Many of the classes are so designed that previous work in the field is not necessary. Such classes serve as an introduction to a field of study and give one an opportunity to consider new areas of interest, to develop leisure time activities, or to prepare for vocational advancement or to develop

SHARP, PARK MASONS, O.E.S. CLUBS WELCOME TWO GRAND OFFICERS

Eastern Star Worthy Grand Patron Fred Leahy of Chatsworth and Worthy Grand Matron Mrs. Thelma Warner of Oakland were north coastside visitors last week. They were welcomed by officers of the Del Mar OES club and the Coastside Masonic club.

After a tour of inspection of the new Masonic headquarters in Sharp Park guided by John Porrazzo, president of the Masonic club, and William McKnight, building committee member, they were taken on a sightseeing trip.

Meeting the distinguished guests on their arrival were Edna Laurel Calhan, president of OES, and proposed matron of the new Del Mar chapter when it is instituted; secretary Mrs. Thelma McKnight; and treasurer Mrs. Gwen Argoud.

Mrs. Calhan accompanied the guests on the tour. She said that the grand officers expressed belief that any obstacles that might have been in the way of the new chapters have disappeared.

Leahy assured Mrs. Calhan that they were anxious to help and that it would likely be only a short time until its accomplishment would be a fact. Both of the guests expressed astonishment at the evident rapid growth of the north coastside.

700 MORE SERVED IN FEBRUARY POSTAL EXTENSION

Seven hundred more residents will receive mail delivery service beginning February 1, according to a report by William Wolf, Sharp Park postmaster.

This will include delivery to upper Manor drive and upper Milagra drive in Pacific Manor and Manor Village; to upper Brighton Terrace and Ocean Park Manor in Sharp Park; and to Vallemar and San Pedro Terrace.

Westview was not mentioned in the report, however, it is expected that this area will be included in the service by those protesting the service from a post office outside their district.

Postmaster Wolf stressed that residents must have approved mail boxes and correct house numbers. The new service will be a combination of home delivery and rural. The service is made possible by the growing stamp sale. Wolf urges citizens to continue to buy their stamps at Sharp Park, for this is the method by which the post office budget is determined.

Two other postoffices now serve the North Coastside. They are Rockaway Beach and Pedro Valley; neither have delivery service. Many of the people living in these areas will continue to get their mail at Sharp Park and to accommodate them, additional boxes have been installed.

Citizens Share $6 Million In Disability Insurance

San Mateo county workers shared a record-breaking expenditure of nearly six million dollars in state disability insurance benefits last year, it was announced today by J. M. Williams, district disability insurance manager for the Department of Employment.

Payments totaled $5,968,102—an increase of about 28 per cent over the previous high year of 1953, Williams stated. The benefits were paid to disabled residents of San Mateo, San Francisco and Marin counties.

More people than ever before filed valid disability claims during the year—20,099 in the district—but Williams believes that the $5 increase in maximum weekly payment effective last January accounts for most of the sharp rise in total payments.

When disability insurance began in 1946 the weekly benefit was only $20, Williams commented. This employee-financed, state administered program now pays up to $35 a week, with an additional benefit of $10 a day for up to 12 days of hospital confinement, he said.

Payments are limited to qualified applicants who are unable to work because of non-occupational disabilities, Williams concluded.
